

Three Volunteers Tapped for Academy VPs

Ben Slutsker Renominated as Secretary-Treasurer

THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE nominated three Academy volunteers to become Academy vice presidents, to succeed those whose two-year terms will be up in October.

▲ Nancy Behrens was nominated as professionalism and education vice president, succeeding Tim Geddes. She served for six years on the Actuarial Board for Counseling and Discipline, as well as on the Committee on Professional Responsibility and other professionalism committees.

▲ Susan Kent was nominated to be casualty vice president, succeeding Amy Angell. She became chairperson of the P/C Committee on Equity and Fairness in February and has served on the committee since 2022, testifying in several public forums including most recently in the District of Columbia (see p. 5).

▲ Annette James was nominated to be health vice president, succeeding Barb Klever. James, a member-selected director on the Academy Board for the past three years, is co-chairperson of the Health Equity Committee, chairperson of the Actuarial Standards Board’s Health Committee, and was chairperson of the Academy’s DEI Committee.

Academy Releases Competency Framework

By Lisa Slotznick, President, American Academy of Actuaries

THE ACADEMY HAS RELEASED its Competency Framework outlining what new Academy members are expected to know about General Actuarial Topics, U.S. Laws and Practices, and U.S. Actuarial Professionalism. Current Academy members will be able to use this framework to focus their own continuing education experience as well as coach prospective members on what it takes to become an Academy member.

The Framework describes two types of knowledge required for membership in the Academy:

- ▲ “Basic familiarity” describes a level of knowledge of an applicant who has been introduced to the terminology and concepts of a topic; and
- ▲ “Foundational knowledge” describes a level of knowledge that would allow an applicant to directly apply their knowledge of a topic to their daily actuarial practice in a responsible and independent manner.

The Framework will help U.S. actuaries understand the competencies that are required of new Academy members and will also guide the Academy in developing additional educational resources for current and prospective members.

As the needs of the profession change and evolve, so will the Competency Framework and the membership requirements the Academy deems necessary for acceptance as an MAAA. Both aim to reflect and reinforce the education, skills, experience, and knowledge expected of members and aspiring members. Any changes to those requirements for membership will be communicated to all members in a timely manner.

We encourage all Academy members to read and understand the information in the Competency Framework—and to understand that it’s a living document that may change over time. In addition, we welcome input and feedback that will aid the Academy in keeping the Framework current and responsive to the needs of actuaries practicing in the U.S. and the public we serve. That input and feedback can be supplied using the Academy’s member support form. We look forward to hearing from you and continuing to fulfill our mission to serve the public and U.S. actuarial profession. ▲

Academy NEWS

Coming Soon—Academy Learning, Your Personal CE Portal

THE ACADEMY WILL LAUNCH Academy Learning in early July—a new member benefit that will support your actuarial continuing education (CE) journey and deliver even more value. It will house much of the Academy content that currently lives on the website in one convenient location.

Members will be able to filter by and search for specific subjects, practice areas, and content types in a variety of combinations. As the platform learns about your interests and preferences, it will suggest new and potentially relevant content to enhance your learning journey—it's an intuitive and easy-to-navigate way to maintain and expand CE opportunities.

Key points to expect from Academy Learning:

- ▲ The current TRACE system will remain accessible for past earned credits for the time being as that data migrates to the new portal. New credits will be saved in your account going forward.
- ▲ Your account will keep track of accessed content and where you left off, so you can return any time to finish the course. You will need to sign in to take advantage of this benefit.
- ▲ The process to register for webinars and events will remain the same.

- ▲ As always, recorded webinars and most other content will remain free as a member benefit; access to post-webinar recordings will be made available via the portal.
- ▲ You will be part of the launch! With an adaptable system that learns about you as you use it, we encourage feedback and suggestions as you explore. You'll be able to tell us what you think, what you like—and what could be improved—and we'll continue to build the system to meet your needs as an Academy member.

What to expect in the future:

- ▲ In the fall, live webinars will be viewable, and once completed will automatically be added to your Academy Learning account to track CE.
- ▲ Some products, such as law manuals, will be available for purchase through the portal.
- ▲ In 2025, the Academy will launch new course content and aggregated content packaged and targeted to serve member needs and provide relevant topical areas that will be available in a variety of formats.

Actuaries Longevity Illustrator Updated With New Look & Feel

THE ACADEMY and the Society of Actuaries (SOA) have updated the Actuaries Longevity Illustrator, an online tool that helps users with a vital aspect of financial planning for retirement. Originally launched in 2016, the illustrator now has a more consumer-friendly mobile version, making it easier than ever to calculate the impact of an important factor in retirement planning: longevity risk. “Achieving financial security in retirement isn’t just a question of the assets you’ve accumulated, but critically involves other questions like how long they may need to last,” said Academy Senior Retirement Fellow Linda K. Stone. Read the press release.

'ERISA at 50' Symposium Covers Key Retirement Issues

THE ACADEMY HOSTED a June 4 symposium marking the 50th anniversary of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) of 1974, part of this year's "ERISA at 50" series.

The symposium featured retirement experts and actuaries who offered different perspectives on the landmark law, including Retirement Vice President Jason Russell, Pension Committee Chairperson Grace Lattyak, and Senior Retirement Fellow Linda K. Stone, who each moderated sessions.

"I think we've got a great opportunity to help employers help their employees to have a secure retirement," Russell said in an interview following the symposium. "That's why I volunteer with the Academy—because of the dialogue we have with policymakers, understanding the interests of stakeholders, which can help everyone come to sensible, practical decisions that help the public interest."

The featured speaker was U.S. Employee Benefits Security Administration Assistant Secretary Lisa Gomez, who highlighted the current administration's priorities in this area. For a full recap, see the Spring/Summer Retirement Report.

Standards Roundup: ASB Adopts Five Revised ASOPs

IN RECENT YEARS, the Actuarial Standards Board (ASB) approved a number of proposals to revise actuarial standards of practice (ASOPs). Now, after countless hours of dedicated work by the task forces, committees, and the ASB itself—and valuable input from many of you—final versions of these ASOPs are emerging. During the past few months, the ASB has adopted five revised ASOPs. Let’s take a look.

▲ ASOP No. 27, *Selection of Assumptions for Measuring Pension Obligations. The revised ASOP No. 27 combines the previous ASOP No. 27, Selection of Economic Assumptions for Measuring Pension Obligations, and ASOP No. 35, Selection of Demographic and Other Noneconomic Assumptions for Measuring Pension Obligations. The revised standard provides guidance to actuaries when performing actuarial services that involve selecting assumptions, including giving advice on selecting assumptions, for measuring defined benefit pension plan obligations. ASOP No. 27 is effective for any actuarial report that meets the following criteria: (a) the actuarial report is issued on or after Jan. 1, 2025; and (b) the measurement date in the actuarial report is on or after Jan. 1, 2025. When the new ASOP No. 27 takes effect, ASOP No. 35 will be repealed.

▲ ASOP No. 28, *Statements of Actuarial Opinion Regarding Health Insurance Assets and Liabilities. The scope of ASOP No. 28 was revised to eliminate a conflict with ASOP No. 36, Statements of Actuarial Opinion Regarding Property/Casualty Loss, Loss Adjustment Expense, or Other Reserves, and states that other ASOPs may apply to actuaries issuing or reviewing statements of actuarial opinion that include both health insurance assets and liabilities, and non-health insurance assets and liabilities. The revised ASOP No. 28 takes effect Oct. 1, 2024.

▲ ASOP No. 29, *Expense Provisions for Prospective Property/Casualty Risk Transfer and Risk Retention. The scope of ASOP No. 29 has been broadened to apply to actuaries when performing actuarial services with respect to developing or reviewing expense provisions for prospective property/casualty risk transfer or risk retention. This includes expense provisions developed or reviewed for insurance, reinsurance, self-insurance, loss portfolio transfers, or other mechanisms for prospective property/casualty risk transfer or risk retention. The revised ASOP No. 29 takes effect July 1, 2024.

▲ ASOP No. 36, *Statements of Actuarial Opinion Regarding Property/Casualty Loss, Loss Adjustment Expense, or Other Reserves. The scope of the standard has been expanded beyond “issuing” and “providing” to “performing actuarial services with respect to a written statement of actuarial opinion regarding property/casualty loss, loss adjustment expense, or other reserves.” In addition, the scope was expanded to include other reserves and clarifies that this standard applies to the statements of actuarial opinion on reserves of other property/casualty risk financing systems. The revised ASOP No. 36 takes effect on Oct. 1, 2024.

▲ ASOP No. 40, *Compliance with the NAIC Valuation of Life Insurance Policies Model Regulation with Respect to X Factors. The ASOP applies to actuaries when performing actuarial services with respect to adjusting deficiency reserve mortality rates using X factors pursuant to applicable law, including applicable law based on the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Valuation of Life Insurance Policies Model Regulation (Model). The standard provides specific guidance for actuaries complying with requirements consistent with the Model. Actuaries complying with requirements that differ materially from the Model should apply the guidance in the standard to the extent appropriate. In addition, the standard now applies to all actuaries performing actuarial services related to compliance with the Model, rather than only to the appointed actuary. The revised ASOP No. 40 takes effect for all statements of actuarial opinion provided for reserves with a valuation date on or after Sept. 15, 2024.

Plenty of ASOPs are still in the pipeline. Please be on the lookout for exposure drafts later this summer and consider submitting comments. Your comments are highly valued, provide vital input to new and revised standards, and help keep the actuarial profession strong. ▲

More ASOPs are still in the pipeline—be on the lookout for exposure drafts later this summer and consider submitting comments, which are highly valued and provide valuable input to new and revised standards.
