Appendix 1, Section II lists commonly issued Actuarial Opinions and Work Products.

The regulations and FAQs on quantitative testing for parity of mental health benefits may require or allow actuarial techniques to be used to determine whether the requirements have been met.

It may make sense to add that to the list of Statements of Actuarial Opinion. The area of practice would be Health. I believe the Applicable Qualification Standard would be General.

Providing this idea in case the committee had not yet considered the addition. The Section II introduction makes it clear that the list is not all-inclusive, and the committee could choose to leave the list unchanged with very little negative consequence.
