The Academy's mission is to serve the public and the U.S. actuarial profession. How will your service on the Board allow you to further the Academy's mission of public policy and professionalism?

As we look ahead to the large, complex public policy challenges that we are grappling with as a nation, as well the critical task of navigating the future of the actuarial profession in the age of big data and artificial intelligence, the Academy's objectives to serve the public and the U.S. actuarial profession are as critical as ever.

I believe that my volunteer experience with the Academy over the past 15 years, coupled with my professional experience helping non-actuaries understand the actuarial aspects of important public policy challenges at the state level, have prepared me to effectively support the Academy's ongoing efforts as a member of the Board.

Likewise, my experience leading large engagements, working through periods of dynamic change and/or uncertainty, and leveraging the expertise of subject matter experts from other disciplines will enable me to foster collaboration and drive progress on issues the Academy is focused on.

Finally, I will bring a forward-looking perspective to this role, which will help to ensure the Academy remains proactive and adaptable in addressing emerging trends and future needs. In doing so, it is my goal to help the Academy preserve and enhance its reputation as a trusted, unbiased resource for policymakers and to demonstrate the value that the actuarial profession will continue to bring to the process of addressing future public policy challenges.
